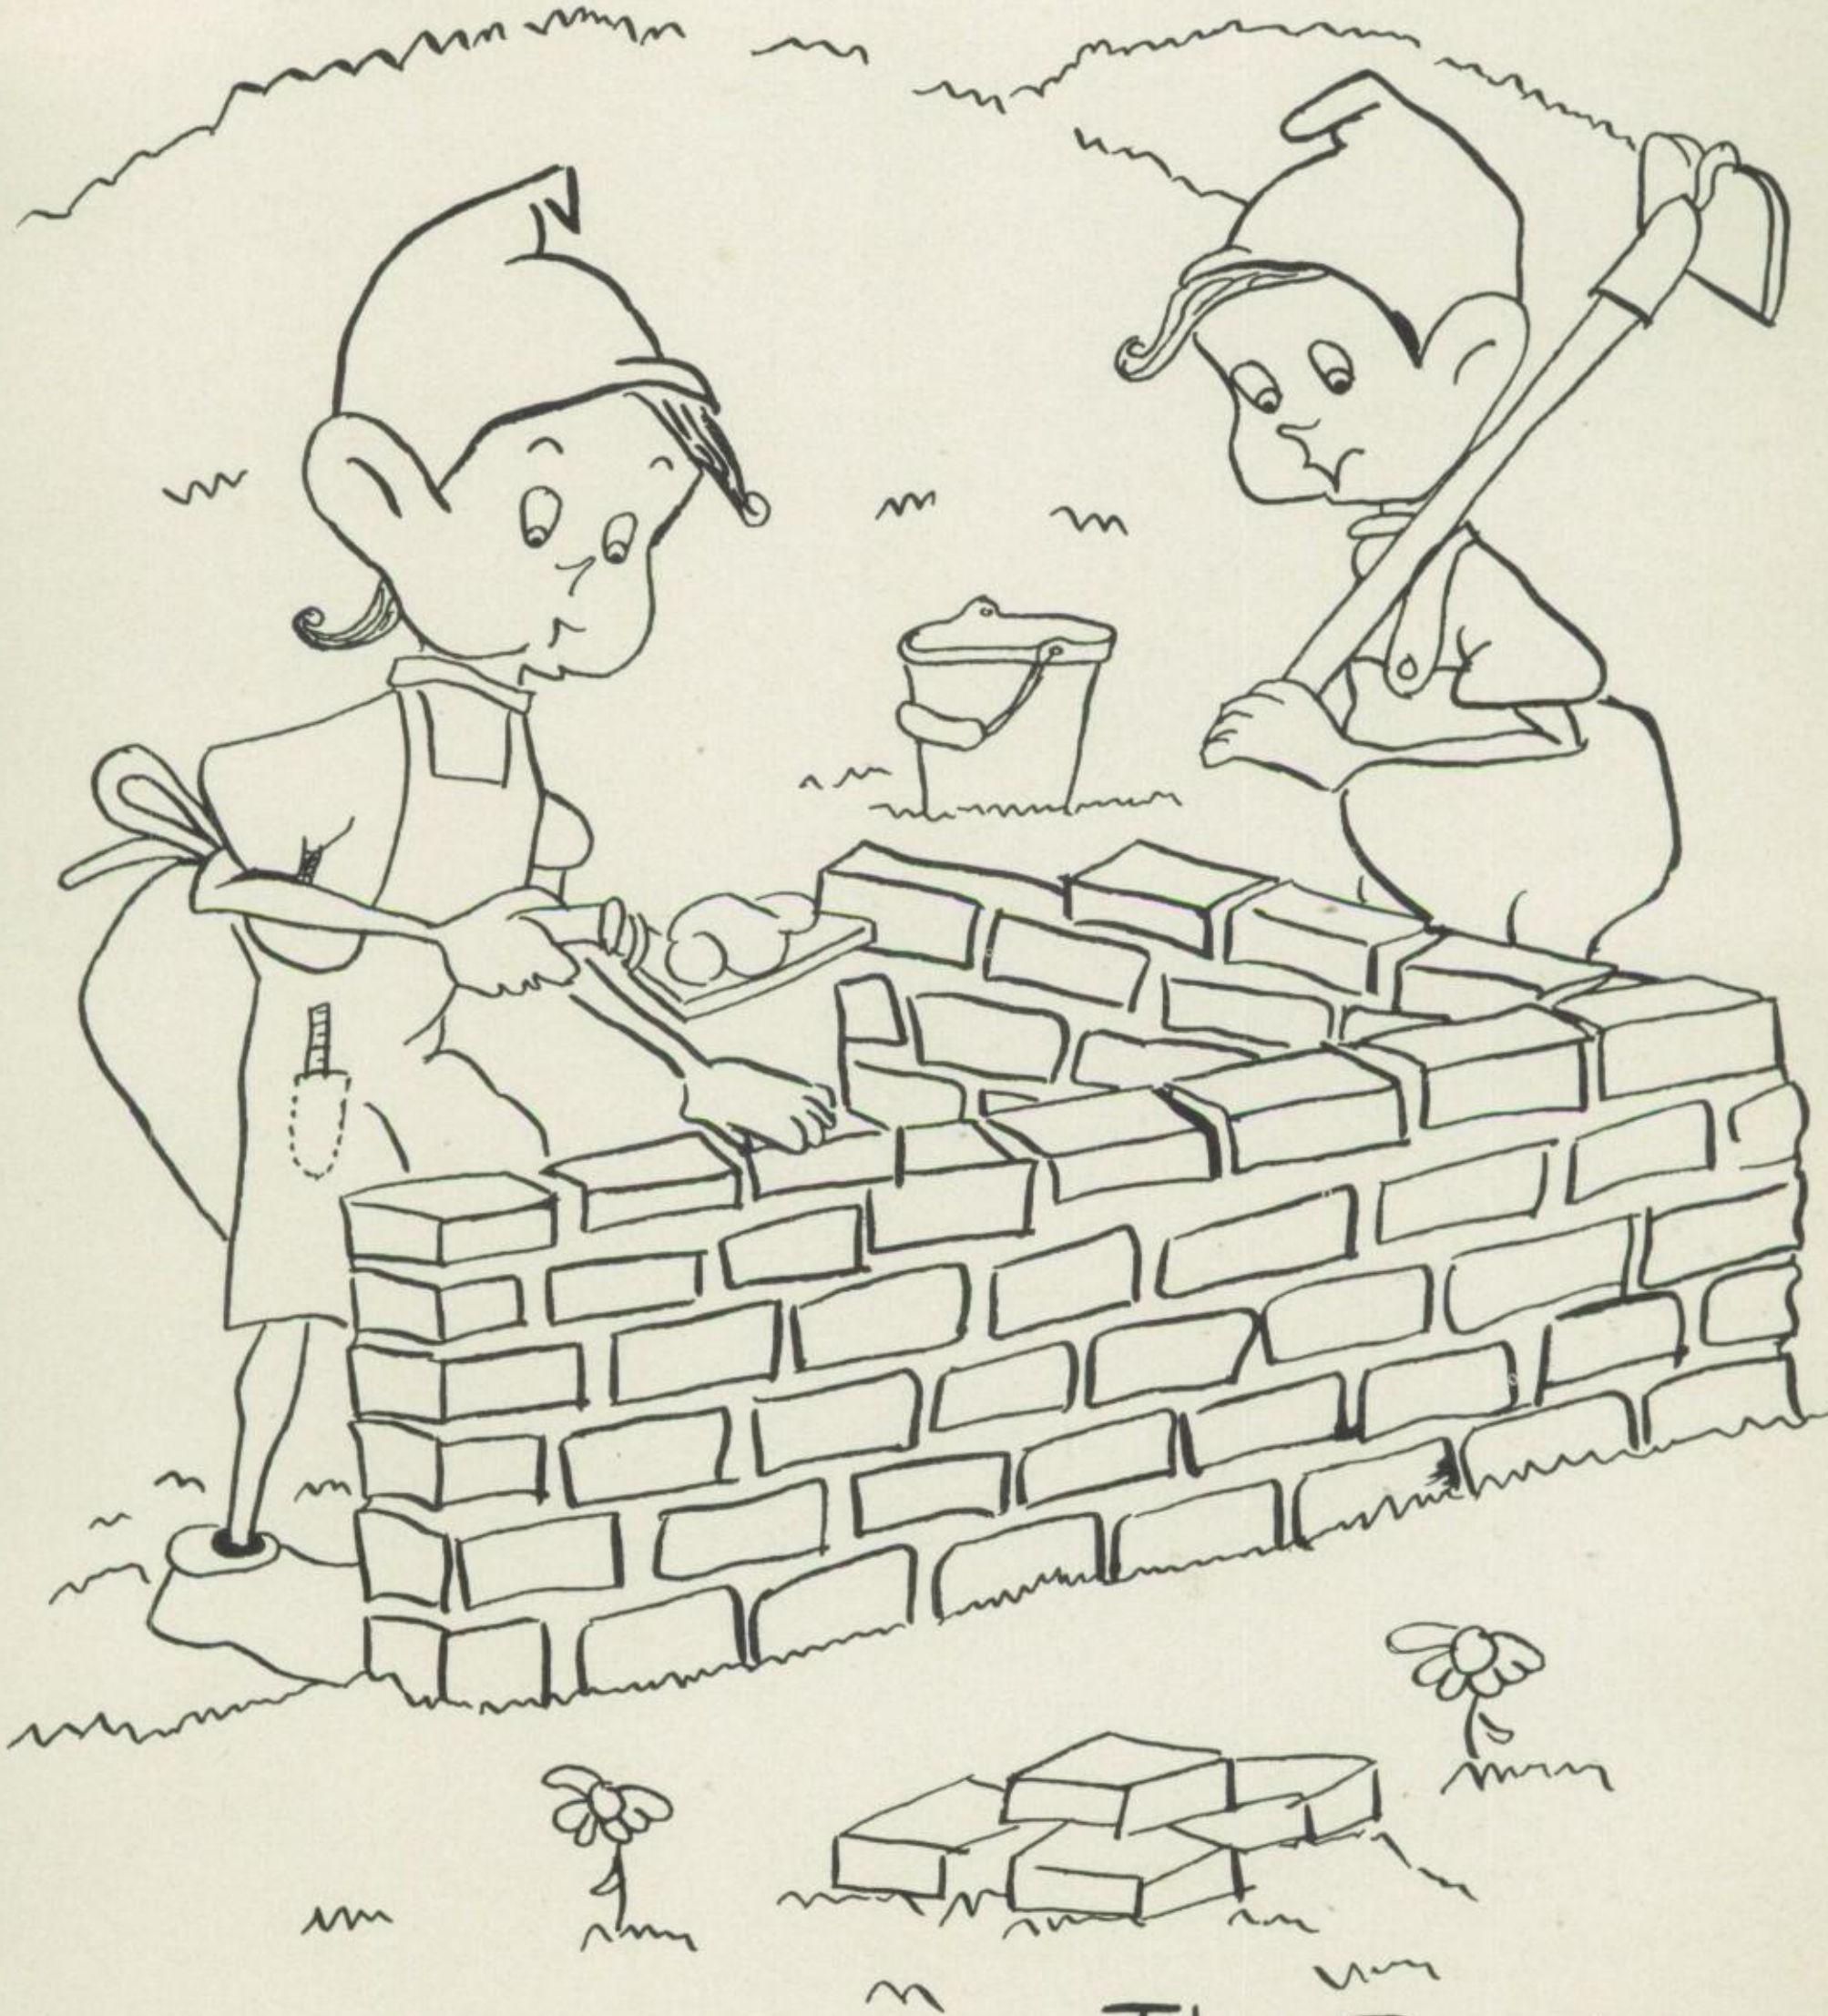
Master Carpenter

To one who has helped to mold our lives as well as the lives of many others who have gone before us; to one who has acted as our class adviser, been our guide, our Master carpenter, we dedicate this FAWN, yearbook of the Class of '55.

HAZEL Z. BLASSER



The Foundation of our Structure

To The Graduating Class of 1955:

The end of one day is the commencement of another. The end of one task is the beginning of a new one. The tree blossoms, bears fruit, sheds its foliage, and immediately begins to prepare for another crop.

So it is with your education. Your present school days will soon be over, but you will begin a new task. A new day will dawn in each of your lives. What you have learned at school, valuable as it is, is only a beginning. The end of your school work merely means the commencement of those experiences which will put to test the principles you have learned.

I trust that as you enter life's school, you will be able to meet the tests of life entirely to your satisfaction and that of your fellows.

I hope that you have built well and that you will find yourself ready and willing to meet the demands of the modern world successfully.

W. G. GALLAGHER

ARCHITECTS

Dear Seniors:

As the years roll by this fine yearbook will become more and more valuable to you, for it will be the key to reminiscing about several years of pleasant experiences and lasting friendships. Class assignments, school regulations, the morning and evening bus ride, lunch lines, and hall passes, — once monotonous and sometimes irritating, — fade from the memory. Your years at Kennard-Dale become in retrospect, "the best years of your young life" — easy and carefree, with little serious responsibility, and filled with dreams of a great future.

Then, too, as you reminisce, I believe you will realize that Kennard-Dale High School was an important force in developing your personality, character and wisdom toward a rich and full life after graduation.

No matter what the future may hold in store for you, graduation is a major milestone in each of your lives. I offer my sincere congratulations for your accomplishments, and I express my best wishes to you for your future success.

Yours truly,

ELDON S. WEBB

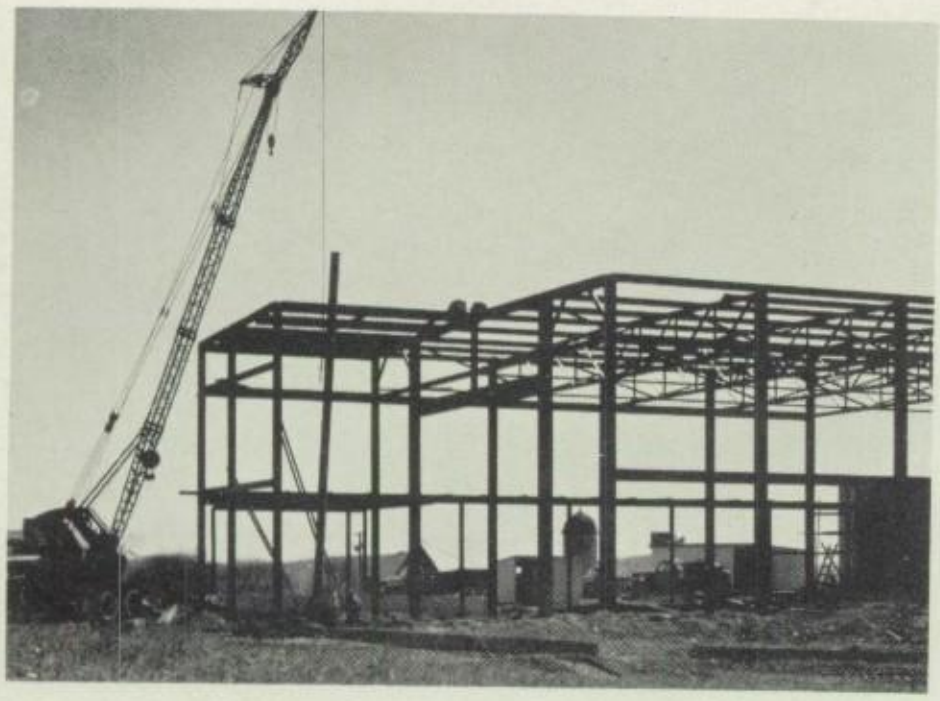
The class of '55 is the first to have the standard ring design chosen for Kennard-Dale High School.

AUDITORIUM



There was evidence in 1954 that Kennard Dale was still growing.

The addition of an auditorium and a band room makes Kennard Dale a more complete plant.

"The Fawn" is the result of much work and many ideas of the staff and adviser. The staff attempted to present in pictures the life, activities, and people that are connected with Kennard-Dale.

We, the staff of the '55 FAWN, wish to show our appreciation by giving sincere thanks to all who helped to make the 1955 FAWN possible, namely;

To Mr. Gallager, Mr. Webb, and the members of the faculty who cooperated with us in many ways, especially, by excusing members of the staff from classes to work on our yearbook.

To Mr. Hoke, who worked many long hours with our staff in compiling this book.

To Richard Hyson who did much of our dark-room work.

To Mr. Stauffer for taking many of the photos and supervising the dark-room work.

To the patrons. Patronize them when possible because through them this book is completed.

To Loring Studio, 146 Market Street, York, Pa., because they furnished free about 50 glossy prints of groups as well as the glossy prints of the seniors and faculty. They supplied us with seven packs of film paper. Their planning, servicing and contributions helped us very much.

To H. G. Roebuck & Son, Inc., Baltimore, Md., the printers of our FAWN, for many suggestions to help us in our task.

Sincere thanks,

THE STAFF OF 1955 FAWN
